Wednesday October 14, 2020 1:00pm to 2:00pm
Wednesday October 14, 2020 9:00pm to 10:00pm

Description

Join Bayer Crop Science in a webinar discussing its latest funding opportunities (see Grants4Ag program research alert), one of the primary ways the company identifies research partners for larger-scale, longer-term collaborations.

The webinar is hosted by Phil Taylor, Bayer's Open Innovation Lead, and Al Kriz, Bayer's Innovation Scout. Following a brief presentation, they will be available to answer questions directly from researchers.

This webinar is open to PIs, Postdocs and Grad Students, as well as start-ups.

What you'll learn:

- What Bayer Crop Science is looking for and how to make your proposal standout
- What makes the Grant4 program different from other funding opportunities
- What resources and support are available to awardees

Register for one of three webinar sessions to be held on Oct. 14.
