

Canadian Academic Accounting Association Haim Falk Award

Sponsor

The Canadian Academic Accounting Association (CAAA)

Description

The Haim Falk Award is intended to stimulate scholarly thinking and research in Canada by giving widespread recognition to excellence in scholarly achievement that clearly contributes to the advancement of accounting thought.

Eligibility

Nominees: The author(s) should be resident in Canada at the time of contribution, and may be involved in any aspect of public, industrial, or governmental accounting or academia.

Nominators: Any informed person or group, especially colleagues, departmental committees, other researchers, and provincial or national societies may submit nominations.

Special Notes

Criteria summary: A body of work judged to have made, or to be likely to make, a distinct and valuable contribution to the advancement of accounting thought. The contribution may be in respect of any aspect of accounting in its broadest sense, including financial and managerial accounting, auditing, tax, and related areas. The work may be theoretical, empirical, applied or educational in nature. See the CAAA website link provided for more information on criteria.
