Description

The Embassy of France in Canada is launching the 4th edition of its Mourou/Strickland Mobility Program. This program is intended for French and Canadian researchers (Quebec excluded as there are specific programs between France and the Quebec Government) who wish to spend a short period of time with their counterparts, either in France or in Canada, as part of a joint research project.

2022 call for projects:

2 priority themes have been identified (~50% of the grants will be allocated on these topics):

- Emerging technologies (artificial intelligence, quantum, cyber security, etc.)
- Climate (energy, oceans, biodiversity, etc.)

All researchers working in a Canadian or French laboratory, university or research center can apply. The laureates are offered a transatlantic flight and financial support for a short stay on site. Missions will have to take place between March 25th and December 31st 2022.

Eligibility

- Have obtained a permanent or tenure-track position for less than 10 years, which corresponds approximately and not exclusively to the 35-45 age group.
- Be attached to a laboratory or department of a Canadian or French university or research centre.

Maximum Project Value

- 1 round-trip economy-class flight Canada- France or France-Canada
- A contribution towards subsistence costs (maximum 3 daily allowances)

Indirect Costs

0%

Special Notes

COVID - 19

Please note that research activities carried out in the context of COVID-19 need to adhere to the University of Guelph COVID-19 research principles, policies, guidelines and processes as they may be updated from time to time and communicated on the Office of Research web-page [3].
