Description

The Canadian Glycomics Network (GlycoNet) is a Network of Centres of Excellence [2] that focuses on the role of glycans in health. Areas of focus for GlycoNet in Cycle II (2020–2024) are cancer [3], chronic diseases [3], infectious diseases [3], and neurodegenerative diseases [3].

GlycoNet funds projects along the following research innovation continuum: translational research and development, clinical engagement, technology development, and knowledge and technology exchange and exploitation (KTEE).

Funding Programs

Clinical Partnerships

These grants offer funding opportunities for clinicians to validate glycomics data from clinical studies. Maximum request: $50,000 for one year. Download PDF Request For Proposals [4].

Translational Grants

These grants further advance/translate projects with proof of concept and protected IP. Maximum request: $150,000 for one year, 1:1 matching required. Download PDF Request For Proposals [5].

Strategic Initiatives

These grants fund partner-led initiatives to advance a partner challenge. Maximum request:
