Program

For More Information

For full program details and how to apply, please visit the MHRC-Mitacs program [1] web-page.

Description

MHRC is partnering with Mitacs on this funding opportunity for Canadian university & college students across the country to work on a mental health research project with their academic supervisor and community partner.

The successful applicant will be awarded $15,000 for a four- or six-month term. Funds will be paid directly to the student's academic institution and held by the student's supervisor.

This jointly funded internship is part of MHRC's 2022-2023 Studentship cycle, where students share their time between academic institutions and community service providers, tying together their research with the needs of the end-users — the community and people with lived experience. MHRC aims to drive systemic change by encouraging the adoption of effective, research-informed, and client-centric approaches to mental health treatment.

Eligibility

Eligible students must:

- A Canadian citizen and/or permanent resident;
- Be enrolled in a Masters, College or PhD program at an accredited Canadian University or College with a background in psychology or related field;
- Be seeking to conduct a mental health research project in collaboration with both an academic supervisor and an eligible community partner. Preference will be given to projects addressing the unique needs of diverse and/or vulnerable populations in Canada.

All projects must have clear potential for impact to studied population, and therefore must partner with a community service provider and integrate the insights of people with lived experience into each stage of their project.

Maximum Project Value

$15,000.

Indirect Costs

Project Duration

4- to 6-month term. The project would begin in January 2023 and end by April or early June 2023.

Deadlines

If College-level review is required, your College will communicate its earlier internal deadlines.
