Description

Mitacs Accelerate allows students to work closely with a partner organization and faculty supervisor, using the latest tools and techniques available to them in both academic and industrial settings. Projects are a cost-shared model with Mitacs, through the support of federal and provincial government, matching the industry partners or non-for-profit (NFP) organizations contributions.

Eligibility

- Full-time grad students at all Canadian universities
- Recent graduates from a Canadian college or university, within two years of graduation (see the Accelerate FAQ page [2] for more information about eligibility for recent grads)
- Full-time graduate students in select Mitacs partner countries (visit the Accelerate International [3] tab for more details)
- Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and international students over the age of 18
- All academic disciplines
- Businesses and not-for-profit organizations operating in Canada
- Students spend 50% of the internship with the academic institution and 50% with the partner organization
- Faculty at all Canadian Universities who are eligible to hold Tri-Council funds

Maximum Project Value

Interns are provided with a stipend/salary starting at $10,000 per four-month period. Typically, internships are approved for a total of $15,000, including a minimum $10,000 stipend and maximum $5,000 in research costs with $7,500 coming from the industry partner matched with $7,500 from Mitacs.

Project Duration

Master's students can complete up to four internship units. PhD students can complete up to eight internship units. Postdoctoral fellows can complete up to nine internship units. Each 'internship unit' is designated as four months.

Graduate students or postdoctoral fellows seeking longer-term funding can also apply to Mitacs Accelerate Fellowship [4] funding.

Note: There is a six- to eight-week peer review prior to approval for internship start.

Deadlines

If College-level review is required, your College will communicate its earlier internal deadlines.
