Description

Nature is offering two awards for women in science:

Nature Research Award for Scientific Achievement recognizes early-career women researchers. The successful applicant will have made an exceptional demonstrable contribution to scientific discovery, and may have faced significant challenges, personal or professional. The applicant will also exhibit the potential for developing and leading an independent research group. Further, applicants should have made efforts to inspire the next generation of scientists through outreach or support the retention of women in science careers.

Nature Research Award for Scientific Outreach is presented for initiatives that support girls or young women to engage with, enjoy and study STEM subjects OR to increase the retention of women in STEM careers. STEM includes natural sciences, technology, engineering, mathematics and medicine. These initiatives can be run by an individual or academic, educational, charitable, governmental or corporate entity. In the case of corporate entities, the initiatives should form part of a corporate social responsibility programme and not be part of core commercial operations.

Eligibility

Scientific Achievement

- Applicants must self-identify as women. This award uses an inclusive definition of 'woman' and 'women'. Trans women, genderqueer and non-binary people are welcome to apply.
- Applicants must hold a PhD degree or a medical degree, or other type of doctorate by dissertation. A PhD or doctorate by dissertation is a globally recognized postgraduate academic degree awarded by a university or higher education institution to a person who has submitted a thesis or dissertation, based on extensive and original research in their chosen field.
- Applicants must be within 10 years of completing their PhD degree or medical degree, or other type of doctorate by dissertation
- Applicants must hold a non-tenured position. This includes those who have non-permanent postdoctoral and/or non-permanent tenure-track positions (or equivalents such as proleptic lecturer positions). Those in a tenured position (or equivalents, such as permanent lecturer position) are not eligible to apply.

- Applications are accepted from those working in natural sciences, technology, engineering, mathematics and medicine

Scientific Outreach

- Nature accepts applications from organizations, departments, individuals (of any gender) or project teams.
- We are looking for initiatives that have either:
 - encouraged girls or young women to engage with and study natural sciences, technology, engineering, mathematics and medicine OR
 - increased retention of women in STEM careers, with a focus on providing tools to support women through their career progression in a STEM discipline.
