

Skills for Research Impact: Clear Language Writing

Date

Tuesday February 23, 2021 1:00pm to 2:30pm

Location

Virtual

Description

Skills for Research Impact is a workshop series for University of Guelph faculty, research staff and graduate students interested in enhancing the impact of their research. Through five core sessions facilitated by impact experts, participants will learn how to successfully plan, execute and evaluate knowledge mobilization (or knowledge translation and transfer) activities.

Join us on Tuesday, February 23 from 1-2:30 pm for the third workshop in the series, Clear Language Writing. In this workshop, you will learn to hone your clear communications skills and get tips on how to structure your communications and write in clear language for lay audiences.

By the end of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Define what clear language communication is
- Recall why clear language communication is important in Knowledge Mobilization
- Explain the importance of identifying and understanding the needs of your audience
- Evaluate the clarity of various communication pieces
- Construct clear language communication using organization, language, and formatting strategies

Register and learn more about the Skills for Research Impact series.

Click here to learn more about this alertAlert Classifications

Workshops and Events

Disciplines:

Health and Life Sciences

Humanities

Information and Communications Technology

Physical Sciences and Engineering

Social Sciences

Source

URL: <https://www-research.uoguelph.ca/research/alerts/content/skills-research-impact-clear->

Skills for Research Impact: Clear Language Writing

Published on Research Alerts (<https://www-research.uoguelph.ca/research/alerts>)

language-writing