Description

Grants priority areas

The central areas of focus of the 2021 WSIB Grants Program support the WSIB's Strategic Plan with a focus on the impact of COVID-19. Three considerations for potential proposals include:

1. COVID-19 is changing how we work
2. COVID-19 is changing how we approach health and safety
3. COVID-19 is changing how we support return-to-work and recovery

The grants agenda [2] provides more information on the topics of interest for the 2021 proposal.

Grants Program

WSIB is committed to providing exceptional programs and services to the people and businesses of Ontario.

The objective of the WSIB grants program is to enhance workers' compensation system outcomes by supporting innovative proposals that are aligned to WSIB's strategic mandate.

The grants program accomplishes this through highly practical research studies delivered by professionals and organizations that can strengthen Ontario's workers' compensation system now and in the future.

Selection process

WSIB follow a rigorous and transparent proposal selection process for their grants program. They accept the following types of proposals:

1. Research proposals

- Expert research proposals that deliver practical results for the workplace safety and compensation system
- Workplace-based projects that create partnerships between the workplace, researchers and organizations

2. Training proposals

- Initiatives that help people with workplace injuries and illnesses, employers and the workplace safety and compensation system solve long-standing barriers
- Innovative opportunities that build capacity in the community and offer significant potential to improve system results
