Description

The California Table Grape Commission seeks to fund research projects that assess the benefits of table grapes to human health, using a freeze-dried powder made from fresh grapes. Research should focus on the beneficial effects of grapes as a food, in pursuit of health.

Eligibility

Candidates must have a medical or other doctoral degree and be a faculty member or project leader at a college or university, teaching hospital, or established research institute or organization. Preference will be given to researchers with previous experience in related research. Prior grantees are eligible to apply for a new grant, but previous grantees must also submit a progress report on the state of their original commission-funded research, which should demonstrate results from that previously funded research and evidence of effort to extend that research through other funding resources.

Funding Availability

Three (3) awards of $30,000 each

Maximum Project Value

$30,000

Indirect Costs

20%

Project Duration

1 year maximum

Letter of Intent

Complete Letter of Intent must be submitted electronically as a single pdf file to healthresearch@grapesfromcalifornia.com [3] and received no later than Tuesday December 1, 2015 at 5 p.m. Pacific Standard Time (PST).
