Description

The WSIB's mandate is to promote health & safety in the workplace, facilitate return-to-work and recovery when a work-related injury or occupational disease occurs and provide compensation and other benefits when return-to-work cannot be achieved.

The Grants Program supports research studies and training initiatives to address current and emerging issues in order to strengthen Ontario's workers' compensation.

The central priorities for WSIB's 2016 Grants Program are Return-to-Work and Recovery. Examples of possible subjects include, but are not limited to:

• addressing barriers to successful return-to-work and recovery outcomes;

• integrating best practices to improve return-to-work and recovery programs;

• applying behavioural economics in a workers' compensation system.
